Seven Successful Habits

House corporations are designed to provide safe and adequate chapter housing. To be successful, consider the following habits:

1. Operate Like a Business
   ♦ File for incorporation.
   ♦ Conduct regular meetings.
   ♦ Prepare and distribute minutes for all meetings.
   ♦ Prepare an annual budget based on historical data.
   ♦ Develop a well-balanced board of directors with a mix of ages, experience and backgrounds.

2. Execute a Rental Agreement
   ♦ Specify the amount of rent for each period (monthly, semester, or annually).
   ♦ Establish reasonable rules and policies (like no smoking).
   ♦ Specify the right of the house corporation to terminate the agreement if tenants breach the agreement.
   ♦ Require written rental agreements signed by parents/guardians from all tenants which includes a security deposit.
   ♦ Conduct regular property inspections for both cleanliness and maintenance.
   ♦ Have a check-in and check-out procedure.
   ♦ Provide professional cleaning of the bathroom and kitchen to ensure sanitary condition.

3. Charge Fair Market Rent
   ♦ Charge a fair market rent that is competitive in amenities.
   ♦ Specify the right of the house corporation to terminate the agreement if tenants breach the agreement.
   ♦ Require written rental agreements signed by parents/guardians from all tenants which includes a security deposit.
   ♦ Conduct regular property inspections for both cleanliness and maintenance.
   ♦ Have a check-in and check-out procedure.
   ♦ Provide professional cleaning of the bathroom and kitchen to ensure sanitary condition.

4. Establish a Reserve Fund
   ♦ Establish a maintenance and replacement reserve fund.
   ♦ Update the reserve fund plan every year.
   ♦ Schedule projects during the summer or winter break to avoid disruption.

5. Reduce the Debt
   ♦ Reduces interest on debt when possible by refinancing.
   ♦ Always charge a fair market rent even when debt is paid off to build reserves.

6. Fill the House
   ♦ Establish a fair market rent based on what is needed to pay house corporation expenses (insurance, maintenance, debt, etc. and reserves).
   ♦ Close the house in the summer unless it will raise more revenue that the maintenance costs required to repair the damage inflicted.

7. Promote a Sense of Ownership
   ♦ Allow undergraduates to attend board meetings to promote “buy in”.
   ♦ Solicit input from the undergraduates to provide a facility that will be competitive in amenities.
   ♦ Reacquaint the undergraduates every year with the purpose and functions of the house corporation.

Successful house corporations don’t happen by accident. Follow these time tested habits and become one of the success stories. IHSV

We’re Here to Help

Board of Grand Trustees is here to assist Sigma Chi house corporations in a myriad of ways. Besides many years of service to Sigma Chi in various capacities such as real estate development, property management, project administration, politics, house maintenance and renovation, insurance, tax planning, accounting, construction, fund raising, legal, education, financing, risk management and more.

While each Grand Trustee is assigned specific provinces to oversee, this combined expertise is available to all house corporations. The key to tapping this gold mine is to contact your province’s Grand Trustee with a specific request for assistance. If your request is out of your Grand Trustee’s specific area of expertise, other colleagues will assist in providing real solutions. Give us a try. IHSV

Alumni Engagement Initiative Report

The Board of Grand Trustees has been tasked with improving Sigma Chi alumni participation by way of the Alumni Engagement Initiative (AEI). To that end, a multi-phase strategy has been developed.

Phase 1 identified alumni groups in these categories:

1. Existing groups that have low participation or need help getting back on track
2. Inactive groups that need to be restarted
3. University town groups
4. Potential locations for new groups in the 50 states, Canada, and other countries. We have identified over 1500 potential groups across the 50 states. We have two groups in the United Kingdom, one in Holland, one in Singapore, one in Ethiopia and the Manila Alumni Chapter.
5. Virtual groups (like Facebook) that should officially register to be listed in The Magazine of Sigma Chi.

Phase 2 involves several areas:

1. Follow up with chapter town alumni group voids. House corporations are encouraged to assist in forming alumni groups in their chapter locations.
2. Identify towns that have clusters of Sigma Chis that don’t know each other even though they may attend the same church, play at the same golf course, etc.
3. Engage more participation in large cities using a “hub and spoke” concept: one main alumni group with several sub-groups that meet in different locations, times and/or events like happy hours, holiday events, tailgate parties, etc.
4. Evaluate progress with Phase 1 targets and assist them with resources.

We expect to have over 109 working alumni groups by July 1, 2018. I hope this will spark your desire to get involved or spearhead a new alumni group.

How Much Rent to Charge

An ongoing challenge for a house corporation is how to determine the proper rent level for the chapter house and individual brothers that live there. There are several issues that must be considered:

Market Forces. The chapter house is one of several housing alternatives available to members and prospective members such as:

a. Campus Housing. The university can be a significant competitor since the states and provinces provide taxpayer money or fund raising mechanisms that are not generally available to most house corporations. In addition, many universities require freshmen to live in campus housing to ensure occupancy.

b. Private Rental Competition. Apartments, houses and condominiums are available in various price points, locations and condition with the ones closest to campus commanding higher rents. Chapter houses that have a close proximity to campus have an advantage over most of private rental market.

c. The Folk’s Place. For local students, their parents’ place can be daunting competition. And when the folks are paying college expenses, living at home may not be optional. However, Active Chapter can control the obligation for all members (even locals) to fulfill a live in o b l i g a t i o n o f s o m a n y quarters/semesters. Of course, local parents have to be supportive of this obligation to make it work. To protect the viability of the chapter house operation, this obligation and expectation should always exist. If a prospective member is unable or unwilling to live in, he should not be recruited.

The Shrinking Chapter House. Most active brothers are now unwilling to share a bedroom with other brothers. The post World War II days of six or more to a room are gone. Most brothers today had their own room growing up, have lots of expensive personal property and want a way to secure it and their privacy. For older chapter houses with mostly multiple occupancy rooms, it means renting the same space to half the number of occupants. Modern rentals take this into consideration by providing private rooms which share a small common area, bathroom and kitchen (cluster floor plans).

This lifestyle change has profound implications on older chapter houses which have few single bedrooms and extensive common area which is lightly used. In these cases, the house corporation should explore ways to subdivide unused common areas larger bedrooms.

If your house corporation is contemplating building a new chapter house, the Board of Grand Trustees can assist with design principles that provide the kind of quarters today’s brothers are looking for. While you personally may have fond memories of the bunk bed living of the 1960s, pay heed to the housing requirements for the new millennium brothers.

Cheaper Than Market Rent. Some house corporations set rent just high enough to meet current operating expenses (minor repairs, insurance, taxes, loan payments, etc.) Lower than market rent may delight the active brothers who can use the savings for “soap and things” but keep in mind:

1. Collecting all the rent is often a challenge so having an extra margin is always a good strategy.

2. These particular tenants wear the place out much faster than the average tenant so there will more frequent and substantial costs that must be planned for like painting, flooring, furniture, roofing, plumbing, electrical and on and on. If part of the rent is not earmarked for these expensive future repairs, the house corporation must either borrow or fund raise to pay for them. Both of these alternatives come with their own set of challenges so if your house corporation operating expenses are lower than competitive market rent, charge market rent and put the extra into a reserve fund. You will be very glad you did.

How to Determine the Rent. Generally, the first place to start in determining chapter house rent is with your biggest competitor, the university. University housing information is easily available online at their website. Pricing is usually quoted by single or double room plus food plans which is helpful for chapter houses that provide a food plan. You typically do not want to exceed campus pricing since there is often substantial pressure by the university to hold students there with various incentives which the chapter house can’t compete with. And take note of the two tiered pricing if your chapter house has single and multiple occupancy bedrooms. Offering lower rent for group rooms will help fill them.

When analyzing the private market rental option, inquire with one or more rental management companies that rent to college students. They should have a variety of options available for comparative purposes.

With this market information in hand, decide on a rent level that is competitive, not cheap. Membership in Sigma Chi should never be based on cheapness, but value. If Sigma Chi has little value to a prospective member, that man should not be recruited. By the same token, the house corporation should insist that all prospective members be educated about their financial obligation to the local chapter house. Before pledging, each prospective member and his parents should be provided a written summary of those obligations so there is no misunderstanding of expectations. The house corporation should assist Active Chapter in producing and distributing this information for consistency.

Financial accountability is the mark of a mature man, the kind that Sigma Chi strives for. The house corporation should do its part to capture as much rent as possible to properly sustain the chapter house and teach active brothers about what it takes to pay for it.
